DR. NEELIMA KAMRAH

We are living in a dynamic and demanding world and we need transformation, not mere information. I believe that kids learn idiosyncratically so at KIIT, we follow developmentally appropriate practices that challenge an individual to learn and realize their true potential in every domain. Every child is born with a potent natural impulse to investigate his surroundings, hence our learning environment inspires children and teachers to become learners together, collaborate, explore and innovate to solve problems. Our teachers make sure our children feel safe and important and reach their individual developmental milestones in the right nurturing environment.

Mr. ANSHUMAN KAMRAH (C.E.O.)

Quality education is vital for every individual to move ahead and achieve success in life. It empowers us with the quality to innovate and carve a niche for ourselves. Today's children are the true crusaders of the future. It becomes essential to include technological tools for effective learning and teaching. Our team at KIIT aims to amalgamate technology with skills to conduct innovative and engaging classes. The inclusion of technology is of utmost importance as it enhances the experience of the learning process and develops research skills among the students.

MS. RASHMI SRIVASTAVA
(HEADMISTRESS)

At KIIT, we believe Imagination is the gateway to all possibilities. While conceptualizing the school, we have made conscious efforts to design our curriculum in a way that encourages creativity, ingenuity, thinking freely and expressing it without any fear. Why is the dove that symbolizes peace always white? It can be pink or yellow, we don't have to stifle a child's imagination and feed with our preset notions always. We can let them paint the sky green, we don't feed them with information but let them explore, innovate and create their own solutions. Here teachers and students are co-learners. Together we make learning great fun!
